Managed Reviews

Law Counsel offers experienced Project Managers. We ensure that all our Project Managers are proven performers. Our project managers work on site or wherever needed to monitor workflow, manage the review team, distribute work assignments and to oversee administrative details such as candidate timesheet submittal and attendance issues, so that your firm's representative will have more time to focus on the case at hand. Our team of former law firm partners, associates and experienced review attorneys that you can count on to oversee every phase of your document review process from start to finish with exceptional success.

Document Review Attorneys

The legal talent at Law Counsel starts with the selecting the best attorneys for your document review projects and we know our people. With decades of legal staffing experience, we have vigorously screened all our lawyers and have worked along side them as well. Our associates are not only smart but they are nice. We make it our goal to provide tailored teams of contract attorneys who will work well together and who you will want to work with. We don't just select top talent; we select good people.

LC Project Sites

Law Counsel offers full service "turnkey" review sites in Washington DC that include everything you need to immediately start a review project. Our site includes windowed, separate and secure review rooms that house up to 250 contract staff. We take pride in our exceptional spaces and it shows. Our centers are equipped with furniture, computers, printers, copier and fax machines. We also offer a well-stocked kitchen with refreshments for our teams and client representatives. Our sites are both conveniently located near Metro station and public transportation for easy access.

Legal Translation Solutions

The global nature of legal practice is increasing the demand for legal translation. We provide a full range of language and business services including professional translation. We have unparalleled access to multilingual attorneys and translators who can easily convert documents from a foreign language into English.
